

Name: Eugenia Serova

Education/Career:

Graduated in Moscow State university named after M.Lomonosov (USSR), PhD and Doctore of Science in the same University

After University has combined research, teaching and working with policy-makers.

All-Union Academy of Agricultural Science and its Research Units (1982-1991)

RF Ministry of Agriculture (1991-1994)

Institute for Economy in Transition ("Gaidar Institute") (1994-2007)

Higher School of Economics (1994-2007)

FAO (2007-2018)

Institute for Agrarian Studies at Higher School of Economics (since 2018)

Activities:

She collaborated with several international organisations – World Bank, FAO, OECD, IFPRI, and some others

She did engage on several occasions by taking important positions in the organizations.

- She was an expert at OECD in 1992 to 2002

She was a Member of several International Councils and Boards, including the:

- International Food & Agricultural Trade Policy Council (IPC) (2005-2007)
- Steering Committee of the International Assessment on the Future Role of Agricultural Science and Technology in Reducing Hunger and Improving Rural Livelihoods (IAASTD) (2003-2007)
- Scientific Committee of the Institute of Agricultural Development in Central and Eastern Europe (IAMO, Halle, Germany) (2000-2007)
- International Advisory Board of Economic Education and Research Consortium (EERC) (1997-2002)

Service to the profession:

She published on a wide variety of topics, including on (the economics of) land reforms, farm restructuring, input markets, agricultural subsidies, agricultural labour, finance and credit problems, rural development, agribusiness and value chains, Russian accession to the WTO, etc

She has issued several textbooks and taught several generations of the students since 1994. In 2020 established a new Master programme on agricultural economics at Higher School of Economics

She was member of editorial boards

- International Agricultural Journal (IAAE)
- Studies in Agricultural Economics (Hungary)
- Sustainability (China)
- International Agricultural Journal (Russia)
- Agroinvestor (Russia)

Service to the EAAE:

- Since the fall of the Berlin Wall she has participated in virtually all EAAE conferences and many seminars, including several presentations in Plenary Sessions.
- She was on the Program Committee of the EAAE Seminars and the organizer of the only EAAE seminar held in Russia so far (the EAAE 102nd Seminar, May 17-18, 2007, Moscow (<https://ideas.repec.org/s/ags/eaa102.html>)).
- She was on the Executive Committee of the EAAE from 2002 to 2008.