Congratulations on the acceptance of your paper!

Here are the instructions for posting a full-text copy of your selected paper on the CD-ROM of the seminar and on AgEcon Search: Research in Agricultural and Applied Economics. The EAAE Board has decided to use AgEcon Search as a standard tool for making the papers of congresses and seminars available to the research community.

For the 99th seminar, all accepted selected papers must be sent to xxxxxxxx by May 17, 2005 or they will be dropped from the EAAE program.

If you are not already familiar with AgEcon Search: Research in Agricultural and Applied Economics is an electronic library dedicated to collecting, indexing, preserving, and distributing full-text copies of scholarly research in the discipline of Agricultural and Applied Economics. We invite you to visit us at this address: <http://agecon.lib.umn.edu>.

Each paper must have a separate cover page which includes the following information: the title of the paper, the author'(s) name, the affiliation of the author(s), and the name of the seminar. A sample cover page is attached. We suggest that you include a copyright statement at the bottom of this page. You, as author of the paper, retain the copyright of the paper. The following is a sample copyright statement that you may use or adapt for your paper.

Once a paper is received at AgEcon Search it goes through a verification procedure before it actually appears on the web. We have agreed that all papers will appear on the web by June 30, 2005. If you have any questions about or problems with the submission of your electronic paper, contact xxx for at the seminar help desk or Louise Letnes for AgEcon Search at lletnes@apex.umn.edu or at + 1-612-625-1705.
