Newsflash 2021, January

ERAE information :

The European Review of Agricultural Economics now accepts review articles, and the ERAE Editors welcome proposals for review articles from EAAE members. Review articles should provide a comprehensive and scholarly account of a topic that has direct relevance to agricultural economics (methodological or applied) and that has not recently been covered in the literature. A pre-submission enquiry is required. If you are interested in writing a review article for ERAE, please send an abstract, outline, and key references to erae.editorialoffice@oup.com.

Vacancy Editor ERAE

The EAAEP Foundation, the publication committee of the EAAE, is searching for a new editor for the European Review of Agricultural Economics as of September 1, 2021 to replace Jack Peerlings who has served for 5 years.

Please see here the vacancy information.

Q Open:

The European Association of Agricultural Economists (and its publication arm the EAAEP Foundation) have taken up the challenge of publishing in open access with a new journal that follows a 'sound science' approach. We see a move to journals that specialize in open access. We also notice that the current journals reject many papers that are sound science but not always novel in their methodology. Together with Oxford University Press we have therefore created a new journal: Q Open. Q Open is an innovative open-access journal, publishing applied research across agricultural, climate, environmental, food, resource, and rural development economics. The title is inspired by the Q category of the Journal of Economic Literature's subject classification system.

There is a dedicated team of experienced editors, coordinated by Iain Fraser, that welcomes your papers and has a fast peer-review procedure aiming to provide a first decision within 4-6 weeks..

A new publication is a large undertaking for our association, important for the future of our profession. We hope you help us to make it a success by submitting your work to Q Open.
